DSP Conference

The DoD Standardization Conference will be held March 13-15, 2007 in Arlington, VA. The 2007 event promises to be top notch, with a Standardization Executive Panel; presentations on new initiatives for parts management and NATO and international interoperability; tutorials on ITARS/EARS, RFID, the Berry Amendment, DSP automated tools, and the basics of the DSP; and presentation of the 2006 DSP Outstanding Achievement Awards. This conference should interest DoD employees working in engineering, standardization, acquisition or contracting, and professionals from Standards Developing Organizations, trade associations, and government contracting firms. ASSIST-Quick Search provides direct access to Defense and Federal specifications and standards available in the official DoD repository, the ASSIST database. Enter your search criteria in one of the search fields to locate documents available for distribution by the DODSSP. Click on the label next to each search field block for a description and examples of search criteria.

(Please note that you can enter search criteria in more than one search field; however, Quick Search will then only find documents that satisfy all of the specified search criteria. If your search doesn't yield the results you expected, please try again using only one search parameter, such as the document number.)

Document Quality Survey

Through March 9, 2007, we are seeking feedback from the users of DoD standardization documents to help us determine if there is a linkage between the age of DoD standardization documents and their adequacy for the acquisition of DoD materiel. If you have not already completed this short online survey, please take a moment to do so. If you have already completed and submitted your responses, thank you for your feedback.
